

Website Privacy Policy

This privacy policy applies between users of the British Copyright Council (BCC) website and the BCC, which owns and provides the website. It does not extend to any other website that can be accessed from the BCC website. For the purposes of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), the data controller is the British Copyright Council.

The British Copyright Council is committed to the lawful and correct treatment of personal data. Accordingly, we fully endorse and adhere to the principles of data protection, as set out in General Data Protection Regulation and other relevant privacy legislation.

Specifically, personal information shall be:

- (a) processed lawfully, fairly and in a transparent manner,
- (b) collected for specified, explicit and legitimate purposes,
- (c) adequate, relevant and limited to what is necessary,
- (d) accurate and where necessary kept up to date,
- (e) kept in a form which permits identification of data subjects for no longer than is necessary for the purposes for which those data are processed, and
- (f) processed in a manner that ensures appropriate security of the personal data.

Cookies

A cookie is a small file that is placed on your computer's hard drive when you visit a website. There are different types of cookies, for example some collect behavioural information to understand how visitors are using the site and to remember someone has visited the site before.

The BCC website uses only one type of cookie, which is necessary strictly for your smooth interaction with the site, e.g. to ensure pages load quickly and effectively. This cookie does not collect behavioural information or capture any personal details about you, and it expires at the end of your session.

Most web browsers automatically accept cookies but you can usually modify your browser settings to decline cookies if you prefer. In the case of the BCC website, refusing the cookie may mean some or all parts of the site do not operate efficiently.

A number of websites provide detailed information on cookies, such as AboutCookies.org and AllAboutCookies.org.

Links to other websites

We provide links to other websites only for your convenience in finding further information. We do not control these websites and are not responsible for their content or their privacy policies.
